There is so much to think about when choosing child care. Balancing location, cost, quality and just feeling good about who is watching your kids makes this a very important decision.

New Jersey's Department of Human Services (DHS), Division of Family Development (DFD) provides you with valuable information to help you make those decisions. We also help income-eligible families pay for child care through the New Jersey Child Care Assistance Program (CCAP).

To give you a sense of whether you might be eligible to receive assistance through CCAP, the maximum yearly income for a family of three (for example, a mom and two kids) is $54,640 (for 2026).

To check your specific situation and see if you might be eligible, visit ChildCareNJ.gov/Calculator.

Eligible Child Care Providers

CCAP can be used at any licensed child care center, registered family child care provider, approved home (in-home and family, friend or neighbor), school-based program (before- and after-care) or summer youth camp that is approved by the state and accepts state payments. Eligible providers must comply with all federal Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) Act requirements, including completing numerous health and safety trainings and required criminal background checks.

Application Process

To start the application process, visit ChildCareNJ.gov. If you need assistance at any part of the process, you can reach out to your local CCR&R. To find your local CCR&R, visit ChildCareNJ.gov/CCRR or call 1-800-332-9227.

Selecting a Quality Child Care Provider

Your next step is to choose a provider. You can start looking for an eligible, quality provider before being approved. If your child is already in care, you will need to make sure that provider accepts CCAP.

When looking for a provider, consider a Grow NJ Kids program. Grow NJ Kids rated programs provide a higher quality of care and are implementing standards significantly above New Jersey's basic licensing requirements.

You can search for child care in your area, see which providers accept CCAP, check your estimated copay and view licensing information and inspection reports at ChildCareNJ.gov.

Once you are approved, you have 60 days to start using your CCAP benefits.

Child Care Agreements and Payments

Once you've selected a provider, your CCR&R will send you some forms that both you and your selected provider must fill out. These forms must be completed before payments will be made for your child's care.

Some families eligible to receive CCAP are required to share the cost of child care. This is known as a copayment or copay. Copay amounts are determined by family income, family size and the hours of care needed. Copays are separate from other fees. If a copay is assessed, you will be made aware of that amount by your CCR&R.

The state has set payment rates for CCAP. These rates vary depending on your provider type and your child's age. Because of this, you may still owe money to your provider even after paying your copay. If your provider charges more than what the state covers, you are responsible for paying the difference. This is called an overage and it is separate from the copay and other fees your child care provider charges for specific purposes (e.g., field trips and late fees). Copays, overages and/or any other fees are owed directly to your provider.
